Save the date
February 27, 2021

Track One: Learn how to calculate IHSS hours to be prepared for an In-Home Supportive Services (IHSS) assessment or re-assessment?

Track Two: Want to prepare to go to a hearing because you disagree with the IHSS Notice of Action you received? We can provide you the tools to help you.

Note: The IHSS Self-Help Clinics are for individuals who want to learn to self-advocate. They are not for persons looking for representation.

What do I do if I want to participate?

1. Submit the registration (attached) form by January 22, 2021 to mary.rios@disabilityrightsca.org (if you register in Spanish); or leilani.pfeifer@disabilityrightsca.org (if you register in English or other languages). Late registration will not be considered.
2. We will review your registration form and if you meet the criteria, schedule you an appointment for a 1-2-hour legal consultation on February 27, 2021. If selected, you will receive confirmation of your appointment by February 5, 2021.
3. Prior to the consultation, links will be provided to view the video(s) on IHSS that correspond to your track.
4. Provide any relevant documentations (ie. Notice of Action) by February 12, 2021 to ihssclinic@disabilityrightsca.org. Additional, information on how and where to submit your documents will be provided. Note: reviewing your documents does not mean DRC will be representing you in any type of action or hearing. Also, it is up to you to comply with any deadlines to appeal or request a rehearing.

Space is limited. If you are not selected, we will have IHSS Self-Help clinics in the coming months.

If selected, you will need to comply with Steps 1,3 and 4. If you cannot or are looking for representation, please call our Intake line at 1-800-776-5746 for assistance.
